Intimations. TO THE RESIDENTS OF HONGKONG

BEG to give Notice that on this the 31st MARCH, 1884, I TRANSFER MY DENTAL PRACTICE TO Dr. HERBERT POATE, a Graduate of the Pennsylvania College of Dental Surgery, Philadelphia,

AND VICINITY.

Dr. Poars enjoyed the exceptional advaritage of a course of private instruction from the late Dr. Wenn, of Lancaster, Pennsylvania. Dr. Wenn was acknowledged. by the Profession as the most skilful opera-tor in America. One of the leading dental l journals says :---

"Dr. Webs . . . Pessessed of a high order of artistic talent, he developed by and his operations were universally recognized as the highest exposition of manipulative dexterity. No Student over came from his Office who did not at once take high rank as an operator, and it is safe to say that all over the NEW MUSICcountry hetter dentistry is being done because of his efforts." I can not only recommend Dr. POATE as a skilful operator, but his fidelity and integrity can be fully relied upon in the pursuit of his profession. He has also brought with him all the best and latest appliances. I am yours faithfully, lat 2 p.m.

- G. O. ROCERS. Hongkong, April 2, 1884.

THE little steamer Funnic, 52 tons, constructed by Messrs Geo. Fenwick & Co., of this Colony, arrived safely at Manila on the 27th March. She is to be used for towing purposes.

THE annual inspection of the Commissariat and the Ordnance Store Departments, with the stores, material of war and ordnance contained in the yards and premises, was made this morning by Lieut.-General Sargent. To-morrow the officers and men of the Royal Artillery and Gun Lascars will go through their annual inspection, falling in on the Parade Ground between 9 and 10 o'clock.

On Saturday, 12th April, the Hangkong Volunteers propose to have a case of competition at the Range, Kowloon, when its cup presented by Sergt. Major Sassod a will be shot for, also a 2nd prize presented by Mr D. McCulloch, and a 3rd prize by Lieut. McCatlum. The conditions are: -300 and 400 yards, 5 rounds each range, any position. Mr C. P. Chater having kindly invited the Volunteers to a cold collation at his bungalow, members will proceed there after. the competition.

THE final heat of the all comers tug-of-war at the Royal Artillery Athletic Sports, between the teams of 'The Buffs' and the Police, which was postponed last Saturday, was pulled off yesterday afternoon a little before 6 o'clock. The result was a comparatively easy win for the regimental team, much to the surprise of their opponents as well as of the spectators, the police having for some time past carried everything before them in these contests. Considerable dissatisfaction is expressed by the members it is probable that a challenge will be sent by them to the regiment for another trial of strength.

Ar the meeting of the Legislative Council yesterday a vote of $904.63, to defray the expenses incurred by the Commission for enquiring into certain charges of corruption made against the Public Works Department; was referred to the Finance Committee for consideration. At the previous meeting of the Council a vote of $100 for the same purpose was dealt with in a similar manner. The eighteen witnesses examined and the gentlemen forming the Commission will not, we presume, charge the Public Funds with the waste of their time; and, considering that the evidence taken by the Commission and the report occupy 269 foolscap pages of printed matter, perhaps the charges made for printing, reporting the evidence, etc.; are reasonable enough. -This community is presumably a rich one, but we trust that the next time public money is expended to clear -the characters of public officers from impu-736 tations, there will be something more tangible to go upon.

Dr. Fisher will, we presume, be satisfied with the Medical Registration Ordinance in the shape in which it was passed by the Legislative Council yesterday. He can now sue for his fees, and enjoy equal rights with any other medical man in the Colony, without having his qualifications examined by any Medical Board-even the Board as enlarged and rendered partly unprofessional in its constitution. It is true that the cortificates of an unregistered medical practitioner could not be accepted in law did the Ordinances of this Colony require such documents, but, as the Chief Justice pointed out in the course of the discussion yesterday, we are in the happy position in Hongkong of being able to bury a man here without a medical certificate of any kind; a juryman who wishes to get relief from his public duties on the ground of illness can present a certificate from any practitioner, registered or unregistered, and, in short, the registration of practitioners will not, in Hongkong, invest their certilicates with an iota of additional legal potency. Dr. Fisher should be merry. THE MEETING OF THE LEGISLA-TIVE COUNCIL, YESTERDAY. The following is a fuller report of a portion of the discussion in the Council than we were able to publish last night :--The Chief-Justice .- The clause to which Mr Ryrie objects is taken from the English Act, and in England certificates are required for various purposes, but I don't know that any is required here. With regard to the Ordinance itself, I think it may be useful if I point out in a general way what is the introduction of this Ordinance. In England at the beginning of this century a large l number practised as apothecaries; others authorised to confer medical degrees. With regard to the apothecaries, although there and indeed things were so loosely conducted that anyone might call himself an things, and an Act of Parliament was passed requiring apothecaries in futuretheir diplomas from unversities or colleges at one side altogether—to pass an examination and be registered before they were allowed to sons who were practising as apothecaries at that time, somewhere about the year 1815. should be permitted to practise without examination. Matters went on and in the meantime a number of people in England got diplomas from foreign universities. some from American universities, and it was found that these diplomas in many instances were granted to people who had never been to the universities or schools. They were granted to people in some cases sufficient to entitle them to pass, and in some cases nothing further than the payment of a fee was required. There were a vious to the passing of the Registration Act on degrees obtained in that way, That what was done? By the Medical Registra-

English practitioners, or persons registered in England, were alone recognised as having the right to practise in the colonies. They were the only persons who by law had the right to recover their fees, they were the only persons who by law were entitled to give any certificate required by Act or Ordinance. There was growing up in the colonies a class of people who had been unable to afford to get medically educated in England, or to get themselves registered as practitioners in England, and they wished to get registration in the colony as much for the sake of these people, who, they con-

THE SAVINGS BANK BILL. The Attorney-General moved that the order for the second reading of the Savings Bank Bill be discharged. The order was discharged accordingly. THE PRISON ORDINANCE.

The Attorney General moved that the order for the second reading of the Prison Bill be discharged. He said his reason for doing so was that the Secretary of State has announced that a trained Superintendent, who will be thoroughly up in the prison regulations and the Acts relating to prison discipline in England, is shortly to be appointed, and it would be better they should have that officer's assistance particularly in the preparation of the rules and regulations, which form by far the most important part of the Prison Ordinance. The Colonial Secretary seconded.

I had the pleasure the other day of look ing over a literary curiosity—a file of the instructions to go and take possession in London Daily Post for the months of April and May, 1727, "Printed by R. Nutt, in the Old Bailey, near Ludgate, where advertisements are taken in." Tiny scraps they are, about the size of an ordinary play bill, printed on both sides, and with about as much letterpress as two columns of the Queenslander. Leading article there is none. No incisive criticisms, unreserved laudations, or rabid attacks on Ministerial policy; no burning questions to be ventilat-; no indignant letters to the editor, as to grievances real or fancied; and no smart paragraphs; a minimum of news; maximum of words. Instead of these. there is nothing but a few short items of general intelligence, as a rule a fortnight or three weeks old, given in a very brief and concise manner. HIS Review, which was intended to meet the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of "Notes and Queries on China and Japan," has reached its Twelfth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the "Far East" and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes, many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of Chins, Japan, Mongolia, Tibot, and the Far East generally. Recently a new departure has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Reciero in this direction,

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give critiques ombodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topics. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to "Editor, China Review, care of China the number."—II.K. Daily Press. Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:-The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable: and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked or from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs' corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors . . . Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poot-statesman of the eleventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra. is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a usoful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that "Notes" and "Queries" are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Chinese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary zeal to that which was displayed during the lifetime of its prede-cessor in the field, and that the China Review may receive the support necessary to hauro

YEARS OLD AND FIVE YEARS OLD & C

During recent years the art of distillation in Scotland has developed into several distinct and recognised systems; and at the present day there are four distinct classes of spirits distilled, viz., Highland Malt, Lowland instituted, as the most wholesome stimulant; and its value in this respect is doily be-Malt. Patent Malt, and Grain, in each of which there are various grades of quality.

The Whiskey distilled north of the Grampians is styled." Highland Whiskey," and that south of this hill the Magazine would be made more generally of Scotland. Highland Whiskey is obtained from fine barley, fully malted, and from clear, soft, delicious produced spirits. mountain water. The barley is kilu-dried by peat first, which is cut from the mossy peats of the mountains; the whole process of distillation being conducted on a system embodying all that is natural and inartificial. Hence the marked superiority in character, style, and flavour, of this highly appreciated beverage.

Lowland Malt is distilled on a much more extended scale. The system embraces all that science can give to produce quantity at the least possible cost. The grain used is usually of inferior quality to that used in lage, and excellence. Highland stills, and the process is one of hurry and forcing. The quality and value of Lowland Malt is, therefore, for short of Highland Whiskey; and the produce of such Lowland stills may be recognised by its rough. plain, general character, without the higher and delicate around of the Highland.

Patent Matt and Grain cannot be justly termed "Whiskey." These can be distilled from almost any unualied grain and from other glutinous substances, and are distilled in large quantities for recifying and mining purposes. They fall short in value of the Lowland Malt. From their much lower price, and from their greater nearness to the principal ports of shipment. Grain emported to the colonies, &c. Having, after our research and experiment, satisfied outselves that Highland Malt Whiskey is the "original Scotch Whiskey," and the highest type of alcohol, we set ourselves to ascertain the condition under which it could be presented to the public in its best form; and we found that the conneisseurs of many years ago, recognising the exaggerated characteristics possessed by all the higher brands of real Mountain Dew, discovered that the indicious blending of the produce of vacious "sma" stills" secured a more perfect and palacable character to the spirits so created, that one strongly exergerated character being met by others of a like though opposite nature, and the result being complete haraiony, softness, fulness, and delicacy of style. We also found that, after selecting a blend of those "sma' stills" Highland Whiskies, the next essential requirement was age. No artificial process of mellowing, or any system of double distillation, can give to the Whiskey the characteristics developed by time. This fact can be better understood when we explain that the produce of some distilleries mature in a shorter space of time than others, but all require several years to develop those lelicate and beautiful others (or aroma) in which maturity consists.

> Parcels.—The public is reminded that there is no such thing as Parcel Post to Europe, &c. Much trouble and disabpointment are caused by persistent attempts to send small valuable trifles through the Post. Fans, Curios, Articles of Dress. Fency Work, and similar presents are continually being refused, the senders having often spent more in Postage than would have paid the freight by steamer. No refund can be made on such parcels of the value of Stamps obliterated before the nature of the contents was discovered.

Local and Indian Parcel Post at Book Rates between Hougisong and any of the British Post Offices in China, as well has to Japan, Macao, Pakhoi, the Straits The Union may be taken to comprise Settlements, Ceylon and India. They must America, Mexico, Salvador, Brazil, than 5lbs., nor be smaller than 3 in. by 2 Ionduras, Berinuda, Labuan, Hawaii, with PARCEL, CONTAINING NO LETTER, but any Postmaster General. In the Case of Parcels

4. The public are cartioned not to confound these facilities with a Parcel Post to Europe, &c., which does not exist.

It is necessary that the following rules be strictly observed.

1. No Letter or Packet, whether to be registered or unregistered, can be received for Postage if it contains gold or silver money, jewels, precious articles, or anything that, as a general rule, is liable to Customs duties. 2. This Regulation prohibits the sending of Patterns of dutiable articles, unless the quantity sent be so small as to make the sample of no value. 3. The limits of weight allowed are as follows :--Books and Papers—to British Offices

6 lbs.; to the Continent, &c., 4 lbs. Patterns-to British Offices, 5 lbs. if without intrinsic value; to the Continent, &c., 8 oz.

Indemnity for the Loss of a Registered Article. The Post Office is not legally responsible for the safe delivery of Registered correspondence, but it is prepared to make good the contents of such correspondence lost while passing through the Post, to the extent of $10, in certain cases, provided :-

1. That the sender duly observed all the conditions of Registration required. 2. That the letter was securely enclosed in a reasonably strong envelope. 3. That application was made to the-

Postmaster General of Hongkong immediately the loss was discovered, the envelope being invariably forwarded with such application unless it also is lost. 4. That the Postmaster General is satisfied that the loss occurred whilst the corres-and generally within two hours, unless the not caused by any fault on the part of the delivery should be retarded by the Contract sender, by destruction by fire, or shipwreck, nor by the dishonesty or negligence of any person not in the employment of the Hongkong Post Office.

5. No compensation can be paid for mere places of business, if a wish to that effect damage to fragile articles such as portraits, correspondence is invariably delivered at which reach their destination, although in a broken or deteriorated condition.

The leading members of the Medical Profession are new unanimous in recommending High-Class Whiskey, coming more widely understood, and its use increasing in a corresponding degree. With these remarks, we have pleasure in announcing that we hold in bond, in London and Inverness, boundary "Lowland Whiskey." Highland-Whiskey is the produce of numerous "sma' stills," worked for the produce of the produce of the most famed "sma' stills" in the Highlands of Scotland, blended and most part upon the old original system of distillation, a process by which a much smaller extract is produced matured. These Whiskies are matured in sherry wood, and have a yellowish or straw-coloured tinge, and are Occidentfrom a given quantity of grain as compared with the system of distillation prosecuted throughout the Lowlands guaranteed entirely free from fasil, oil and other nexious impurities, the natural attendants of imperfectly Omega

We have resolved to identify ourselves with gannine Highland Malt Whiskey only; to select, blend, and store the same under a system that will enable us to ship this article of the highest possible type, uniform in style, and thoroughly matured.

The "Carlton" Whiskey has a great reputation in the principal London Club Houses; it is of rare quality, CAUTION.—It has come to the knowledge of the shippers of the "CARLTON" Whitskies that the empty buttles have been dishonestly refilled with the poisonous trash very aften sold in China under the name of Whiskey. This is therefore to caution conand Patent Malt, or blends of these and Lowland Mait, have hitherto, almost without exception, been somers to carefully examine the Copsides and Corks to see they have not been tampered with; also that the Corks, Capsules and Labels are branded with Trade Mark.
